EXECUTING

1. Achiever®

What Is Achiever?

Achievers have a constant need for attainment. They have an internal fire burning inside them. It pushes them to do and achieve more. People with strong Achiever talents feel as if every day starts at zero. By the end of the day, they must accomplish something meaningful to feel good about themselves. And “every day” means every single day: workdays, weekends, holidays and even vacations. If the day passes without some form of achievement, no matter how small, Achievers feel dissatisfied. After finishing a challenging project, they rarely seek with a reward of a rest or an easy assignment. While they appreciate recognition for past achievements, their motivation lies in striving toward the next goal on the horizon.

Why Your Achiever Is Unique

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

Instinctively, you are known as a reliable and dependable person. You are motivated to work diligently. You cannot rest until you have completed what you told someone you would do.

By nature, you usually immerse yourself in your work. Often you see what needs to be done, and you do it without being told. This indicates you are a self-starter. You rely on familiar and proven patterns for performing an assignment. You understand the importance of everyone following the rules, procedures, and processes so things consistently get finished from one day to the next as well as from one year to the next.

Driven by your talents, you are quite open and transparent with individuals or groups. The level of trust you have for a person dictates how much you reveal about your personal history, innermost thoughts, or deepest feelings.

It's very likely that you occasionally direct your attention toward ideas, issues, situations, or opportunities that stir your curiosity. You might devote more time than others do to exploring topics, problems, prospects, possibilities, or techniques that pique — that is, arouse or excite — your interest. When something has to be completed, you may be eager to acquire the necessary knowledge, experiences, or skills needed to meet the challenge.

Because of your strengths, you strive to find something to treasure in just about everyone you meet. You feel genuine affection for individuals whom others are apt to label unlikeable, annoying, or disagreeable.

How Achiever Blends With Your Other Top Five Strengths

ACHIEVER + RELATOR

For you, there is no better feeling than working hard with a few good friends to get a big job completed.

ACHIEVER + FUTURISTIC

You are a diligent dreamer who sees what can be, and you are committed to doing what is necessary for it to become a reality.

ACHIEVER + FOCUS

Your goal orientation gives direction to your diligence and helps you prioritize the tasks that you need to accomplish first.

ACHIEVER + STRATEGIC

If at first you don't succeed, you try again. If you try again and still don't succeed, you consider your options and try one.

Apply Your Achiever to Succeed

Use a scoring system to keep track of all achievements.

- ☐ Display metrics that matter in a place where you can see them often. The visual measurement of your productivity will encourage you to keep making progress toward your goals.
- ☐ Put personal achievements on your scoring system. This will help you direct your busy energy toward family and friends and work.

RELATIONSHIP BUILDING

2. Relator®

What Is Relator?

Relator talents describe a person's attitude toward their relationships. People with strong Relator talents are drawn to others they already know. They do not necessarily shy away from meeting new people — in fact, they may have other themes that cause them to enjoy the thrill of turning strangers into friends — but they do derive a great deal of pleasure and strength from being around their close friends. A person with strong Relator talents forms close relationships with people.

Why Your Relator Is Unique

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

AchieverRelator*Futuristic*Focus*Strategic

By nature, you ask to be partnered with your friends when teams are being formed. You are likely to labor longer and be more productive each time you collaborate — that is, work jointly — with people whose company you really enjoy.

Driven by your talents, you experience pure delight when others welcome you into their group and encourage you to join in their activities. Financial security means little when you have no one with whom to share it. Being accepted for who you are and as you are is one of life's true treasures, in your opinion. Because it is priceless, you know it is very precious.

Chances are good that you have people you know, and then you have people you feel like you have always known. Your connections to your closest friends are not optional for your overall wellbeing — they are required.

Instinctively, you thoughtfully select your friends. You avoid rushing into relationships. Once you trust and care about someone, the individual probably seeks your counsel.

Because of your strengths, you typically do your best work when you can bring your expertise to an enterprise. You prefer activities that keep you busy from start to finish.

RELATOR + STRATEGIC

Conceptually, you love to consider the breadth of multiple options. Socially, you prefer deep connections with a few good friends.

Apply Your Relator to Succeed

Make time for one-on-one interactions with your friends.

- ☐ Make sure you get enough one-on-one time with the important people in your life. Periodic opportunities to interact with them will energize you.
- ☐ Take time to tell others how your relationship with them creates happiness in your life. Ask them how it enhances their happiness. Doing this with each person will show you care about them.

STRATEGIC THINKING

3. Futuristic®

What Is Futuristic?

People with strong Futuristic talents love to peer over the horizon. They are fascinated by the future. They anticipate and imagine in detail what tomorrow could or should be. They usually see the future positively. While the details of the picture will depend on their other strengths and interests — a better product, a better team, a better life or a better world — it will always inspire them. This vision energizes themselves and others. They can paint a picture of the future for their team members.

Why Your Futuristic Is Unique

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

AchieverRelator*Futuristic*Focus*Strategic

Because of your strengths, you possess a high level of skill and/or knowledge about specialized issues, subjects, processes, or programs. You probably combine this expertise with your ability to set definite goals for the coming weeks, months, years, or decades.

Driven by your talents, you are enthusiastic about the future because visionaries describe it so clearly. Their ideas for products, medicines, or inventions generally increase your determination to do whatever you can to breathe life into their dreams.

It's very likely that you sense your life has deep meaning. With remarkable vividness, you often imagine where you will be, what you will be doing, and what you have the ability to accomplish in the coming months, years, or decades. Your dreams of tomorrow are very alive in your mind today. You intentionally strive to transform these possibilities into reality.

By nature, you look to the future rather than review what has already occurred in your life. You see little reason to cling to the past. The future is full of potential. You set your sights on being accomplished and successful.

Instinctively, you are much more innovative when you have ample time to process ideas. As long as you are not pressured to think fast, you can generate many original proposals, alternatives, or tactics for the coming months, years, or decades.

- ☐ Be sure to ask people how they feel about your visions of the future. If they are worried or uncomfortable, make the picture as vivid as possible using hopeful, clear and detailed language.

EXECUTING

4. Focus®

What Is Focus?

People with strong Focus talents prioritize and then take action. They set goals that serve as their compass, helping them determine priorities and make alterations when needed to get back on course. Their Focus is powerful because it forces them to filter; they instinctively evaluate each action before taking it to decide whether it will help them reach their goal. In the end, strong Focus talents push them to be efficient. They are extremely valuable team members because their single-mindedness enhances the speed and quality of their performance and keeps the team on track.

Why Your Focus Is Unique

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

AchieverRelator*Futuristic*Focus*Strategic

Because of your strengths, you do more than simply yearn to live a evenly paced life; you actually map out what you will do in the coming weeks, months, or years to stabilize your personal and professional priorities. You have the ability to adhere to this plan, especially when you can invest time in meaningful activities and relationships.

It's very likely that you might not allow many distractions to interrupt your intense thinking when you are working on tasks that match your expertise or pique — that is, arouse or excite — your curiosity.

Instinctively, you like to set goals when you are alone, but can also enjoy team goal-setting. All you ask is that the objectives are reasonable. You probably expect the final objectives to be clearly defined and logical.

Driven by your talents, you arrive at goal-setting sessions clearheaded about the way things really are. By helping others concentrate on the facts, you regularly move away from the distraction of emotions. As a result, those involved are likely to appreciate the calming effect you have on them. Not only do they make progress on setting their objectives; they also remain on friendly terms with one another once the meeting ends.

By nature, you can mentally zero in on tasks for hours at a time when you have a goal to reach. When the assignment demands extra time, you would be wise to honor your body's natural rhythms. In other words, if you are a "morning person," work in the morning. Work in the afternoon if that is when you hit your stride. Work in the evening if that is when you think better. Work around midnight after everyone has gone to bed if you are someone who usually stays up very late.

FOCUS + STRATEGIC

Your mind is open to considering multiple options. But once you have chosen an option, those you have not chosen become invisible to you.

Apply Your Focus to Succeed

Decide what you must do, prioritize and then act.

- ☐ Say no to projects or tasks that do not align with your end goal. While you can't always say no, when you can, it will help you concentrate on your most important priorities.
- ☐ Trust your internal compass to make necessary adjustments as you work toward a goal. You have an instinct that ensures things will not distract you as you work to achieve the desired outcome.

STRATEGIC THINKING

5. Strategic®

What Is Strategic?

People with strong Strategic talents can sort through the clutter to find the best route. You can't teach this skill. It is a distinct way of thinking — a unique perspective on the world at large. This outlook allows them to see patterns where others see complexity. Mindful of these patterns, they envision alternative scenarios, always asking, "What if this happened?" This recurring question helps them see, plan and prepare for future situations. They see a way when others assume there is no way. Armed with this strategy, they move forward.

Why Your Strategic Is Unique

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

AchieverRelator*Futuristic*Focus*Strategic

Instinctively, you might appease — that is, calm — some people by using logic to reduce a task, process, program, routine, recipe, or machine to its simplest parts. Perhaps people appreciate your ability to explain why something that confuses them actually is easy to understand. Maybe you enliven your presentations by drawing diagrams, telling stories, or giving examples to illustrate your key points.

Because of your strengths, you may have enough expertise in language to express your ideas and feelings with ease. Maybe you rely on words and phrases that others can understand.

Chances are good that you might be known for reducing elaborate or intertwined ideas, processes, legal documents, or action plans to their basic elements. As a result, some people might turn to you for plainspoken and easy-to-understand explanations.

It's very likely that you focus on uncertainties and develop plausible scenarios based on possible outcomes. You believe that people often overestimate or underestimate the success of a given initiative. You believe that your careful analysis of alternatives is more realistic.

By nature, you pay close attention to what is going on around you. You listen. You quiz people. You read. You probably take notes on key points. As you accumulate lots of information, you disregard what is unrelated, and pay heed to what is really important. The more you reflect on what you know, the more problems begin to reveal themselves, and eventually solutions start taking shape in your mind. Finally, given the situation, you select the best plan from your list of options.
